

Dear Visitor,

If you have landed on this page looking for our global travel restrictions report, this message is to advise we have now stopped production of the document.

If you are an Anvil customer, you now have access to a continuously updated travel restrictions tool powered by Sherpa.

Sherpa aggregates millions of data points from thousands of sources, including official government websites and trusted 3rd party sources every day to provide real-time information on travel restrictions, COVID-19 testing requirements and quarantine measures.

The Sherpa tool has been embedded within every country information page of your Riskmatics platform. System users can simply click the link, select the origin country and vaccination status of the traveller to see both departure and return restrictions and requirements.

We hope you enjoy using this new and dynamic method to help plan business travel with confidence.

Thank you.
